LAMPS

"A word to the wise is sufficient," and we will tell you right now that here is the place for you to buy Lamps. Our assortment is simply elegant, the very latest and most popular styles. The manufacturer was very kind to us and shipped us our Holiday order a few weeks in advance and so we have the real 1902 designs here right now. The early buyers will have the advantage in this department, as in some of the most elite designs we have but one or two of each.

Neat, pretty and artistic. An article that never comes amiss, no matter how many you have. You will be sure to like these if you see them and will want one or more, for they are quite stylish and

THE PATENT ADJUSTABLE HOOD.

This Hond is designed to keep the lining of a Buggy Top from becoming soiled when being driven on the road in a lowered position, and is useful at all seasons of the year, as it keeps out the mud, dust and rain in the summer, and the snow and such in the winter. In addition to keeping the lining from being soiled from any of the causes before mentioned or from becoming faded from the rays of the sun striking it, it also saves much trouble required to brush up and clean frequently the lining of a Buggy Top that is not protected by one of these [loods.

At present all Manila mourns the loss of our good President. I visited, with Hard Sibbett, a family of well-to-do Philipinos The beautiful daughter could speak English fairly well. She said "I am so sorry President McKinley is dead, he was a friend of the Philippino." This was the greatest sign of friendliness to America that I have seen in a native. The manner in which it was said makes me feel that the girl meant it. The native as you see him on the street shows no signs of either sorrow or joy over our murdered President.

The children of the Philippinos are like all children. Their faces light up when they are pleased and they weep when they are not pleased. But during past centuries as the native children have lately.

grown into thinking men they have been confronted with the yoke of Spanish tyranny. Under Spain's rule men had learned to take a favor as given for policy only. All men then knew that were is policy they would as readily be killed by the authorities as favored by them. At we know, when the heart is not with a gift, we are not likely to show signs of pleasure, so Spanish rule, which gave little, and that only that she might gain, has left the natives as men who show little signs of sorrow or joy. So it is of little significance that we see few natives evincing serrow at this sad time. We do not stempt to sulogize McKinley here, but all in Manila believe that he will go down into history as the liberator of Cuba by the side of Lincoln, the emancipator of th slaves of America. McKinley's war with the Philippinos is just beginning to open their eyes to s esson that they have been so severely

HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.

Grillemen: — Being entirely curred of dealness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be taxed at your discretion.

About five years ago my right cer began to sing, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this car centricly.

I underwent a treatment for catarrit, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent car specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.

I then saw year advertisement, accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and today, after five weeks, my bearing in the diseased car has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain — Very truly yours.

between them will become entirely satis factory and all agitation in regard to the sale of the property may be indefinitely deferred. That is a consummation de voutly to be desired, as these constant agitations have done much to injure the property and to prevent its development importance to the business interests of the city of keeping this one avenue of trade independent of outside influence and in the control of our own people. If there is another trunk line to be brough to the city in the future the best way to

to be most favorable. It is understood that money is available for the construction of the tidewater extension as soon as the traffic of the road absolutely demands it. Already some property of the proposed line has been purchase and some little construction done. If i should ever be deemed advisable to ex tend the road westward there are passes through the mountains by which it could reach Pittsburg in about 165 miles over a favorable route. At Pittsburg many connections could be made. The Wabash system, controlled by the Goulds, is about to enter that city by a road it i constructing from the line of the Wheeling and Lake Erie, which it has recently ourchased. This is one of the arterie of trade which might be tapped at Pittsburg and diverted to Baltimore. Between Baltimore and Pittsburg it would be entirely practicable to develop coal and timber regions which have not yet been reached. While nothing of this kind is definitely proposed at this time. t is well to keep these matters in mind n estimating the importance to Balti-

-THE LEADERS ---

The snappy weather of the last few weeks, and the certainty that has been forced into the minds of the people, that winter is on the way, has given our Ready to Wear Department extraordinary business. The varied lines we carry, in full assortment of styles and sizes, allow few to go away disappointed who really desire to buy. Manufacturers have been unusually slow in filling re-orders and orderfor special garments, owing to the fact of large husiness and slow deliveries of piece goods from the mills. We give an extract from a leading commercial paper showing

✓ GETTYSBURG, PENNA,

"So for as can be learned the deliver os of piece goods do not improve to in extent that is akely to relieve the situation within the near future. Part cularly is this true of goods mostly in demand, and generally is it true of nearly all fabrics that enter into the composition of garments !

We therefore advise intending purchasers to attend to this want of a W. ap, Tailor-made Suit, Walking Skirt, Dress Skirt, Waisi early to avoid disappointment as well as probably a saving on the parchase price. We will have no goods in stock but the englith made, and no one can buy ready made good during a busy season, from first-class concerns, unless he has placed an initial order at the beginning, and we feel that unless you are satisfied with sweat shop garments the advice given above is much to your advantage. We, in part, saw the rush that would likely come in October and we are well prepared at present, but sizes and styles are thinning out rapidly now.

recognized fact, that profitable farming should include live stock feeding. There is, one year with another, nearly always a good profit in the feeding operation alone as compared with selling the grain but the true friend of the soil sees anoth er great gain in the feeding of live stock in the increased fartility of the soil Hence it behooves us to keep our breed ing stock even though there is a great temptation to dispose of it and sell the high-priced grain. For the prospects are fair for enormously high prices for fattened live stock in the near future. To winter the needed amount of breading stock and make the most of the limited corn crops is the problem. The cutting process should begin as soon as the corn is in condition (act before) by cutting in half shocks and allowing to cure some before completing. This may he continued until iste in the season if the work be done early in the morning and late in the evening. Where there is plenty of help available the cutting can be done by hand as there are disadvantages in the machine work. The success of the harvester depends much upon conditions. After the corn is in shock its feed value may be almost double by shredding, since it makes the produce more easily stored away and the litter much more easily handled and available as a soil fertilizer. Since the matter has been so thoroughly tested and the results verified, and since there is at present such pressing need of saving feed, it certainly is "up to the farmer" to make the

Never in all its history has the Cumberland Valley Railroad shipped as many apples as it is now doing. Every day from 25 to 30 carloads of barreled apples are being shipped and the traffic is only beginning. About 25 per cent, of the shipments are from Franklin county and the remainder mainly from south of Hagersremainder mainly from south of Hagerstown in West Virginia and Virginia. The fruit is nearly all shipped to northern fruit is nearly all shipped to northera New York, with some to Philadelphia and | 🦠 Baltimore. As an evidence of the crops held south of Hagerstown it may be said that one man alone has over 10,000 barrels and another man living near inwood has an orchard of over 100,000 trees. While apples ordinarily are bought from growers at 31 a barrel, this year the buyers pay from $2 to $3. This region is one of the few in the country where apples have not failed this year. The fruit there in addition to being pleuty is unusually fine.

[Copyright, 1901, by C. B. Lewis,]

Mr. Bowser came home an bour ahead of time the other evening, and be was accompanied by a laborer who was set to digging a hole in the back yard. When finished, the excavation was 8 feet long, 3 feet wide and 2 feet deep, and then Mr. Bowser stretched two electric wires the length of it and thought of this and thought of that and can't make it out at all, and I do be-Heve he's going to fill the hole with with during the winter," During dinner Mr. Bowser's face looked as profound as a pumpkin in cornfield, and Mrs. Bowser with all er chatter on neighborhood failed to interest him. She bided her time, however, and when the proper moment arrived she carclessly queried: "Are you thinking of trying to grow fall and winter potatoes in that hole out there?" He looked at her in mingled contempt and pity for a minute and then replied:

"Mrs. Rowser, it is not exactly your fault that you were created a female, and so I suppose I should not blame you for your lack of brains. I can scarcely hope to make you understand me, but still I will make the attempt and at least satisfy your curlosity. Have you ever heard that there is a magnetic current passing through the "I—I believe I have "

"But you are not sure. While you have been reading novels and chewing gum the magnetic current has been flashing along under your feet without county, and to those a thought. In what direction does this current pass?"
"It dodges around, doesn't it?" "That's the woman of it, of course, but I will go on. The accepted theory
